Dr. Charles Wilson Heads Campion's Dental Health Program

Dr. Charles Wilson Reflecting the questioning spirit of our times, some questions and comments were raised by students during a three-day campus visit from Charles J. Wilson, Director of Campion's Dental Health Program.

Dr. Wilson, a dental researcher of national reputation, met with some fourteen separate science classes alerting students and faculty to a crisis in therapeutic dentistry. No stranger to the classroom, Dr. Wilson has been on the teaching staffs of Marquette University and Colorado State University.

"Statistics tell us," Wilson said, "that there is a diminishing supply of trained, practicing dentists for our steadily increasing population. Anybody who has recently tried to schedule a dental appointment can appreciate the problem. In some locations of the United States it is common to wait two or even three months before receiving dental attention." This, Wilson suggested, is symptomatic of the growing gap between supply and demand.

In light of the shortage of practicing

Eight New Students Win Scholarships

W. Beckett, J. Hayes, P. Gregoire, M. Curoe, R. Romenesko, O. Williams, P. Haas.

Fred Garnett

Blessed Edmund Campion Scholarships are awarded annually to Campion freshmen on the basis of competitive entrance examinations taken by 8th grade students each spring.

The highest score and first place winner was Pierre Gregoire, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd C. Gregoire, Boscobel, Wis. Pierre attended Immaculate Conception School in Boscobel. The second highest score was achieved by Michael Curoe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Curoe, Bernard Ia. Michael attended Aquin School in Cascade, Ia.

Third place winner was William Beckett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Beckett, Oakland, Fla. William had been a student at Lakeview Jr. High, Winter Garden, Fla. There was a tie for fourth place shared by John P. Hayes, and Peter Haas, son of Dr. and Mrs. John P. Haas, both of Chicago. John attended the Queen of All Saints School, and Peter was a student at St. Edwards School in Chicago. Frederick Garnett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Isadore Garnett, Chicago, Ill., was the recipient of a scholarship based on high scholastic ability. Frederick ranked first in his class at St. Dorothy's School, Chicago.

All scholarships are four-year awards on the condition of satisfactory performance, and the basis of need.

dentists, an urgent need for careful dental research is apparent. "We must find a way to eliminate dental disease and to restore a balance between the numbers of people who require therapeutic treatment and those dentists available to treat them." Wilson went on.

The logical place to study the multi-causes of dental caries (decay) is among adolescents because this age group has the highest caries rate. "In addition," Wilson added, "a group like Campion students have many caries-free areas which are susceptible and available for decay, to say nothing of fewer restorations and missing teeth." These factors reduce the complications in determining the level of caries experience.

Campion students are aiding the efforts of dental research by voluntarily participating in a study designed to measure the effectiveness of a phosphate compound on the surfaces of teeth. Long recognized by physiologists as an essential mineral in the human diet, phosphates are contained in whole wheat bread, wheat cereal, poultry, fish, meats, nuts, as well as in milk and milk products.

More recently, dental researchers have learned that the decalcification of a tooth (the process which precedes and facilitates actual decay) involves a depletion of calcium-phosphate, the substance of a tooth. Most ingested phosphates do not remain in the mouth long enough to counteract the activity of bacteria.

Under investigation at Campion is the process of supplying each tooth with a daily amount of phosphate to withstand the demineralizing action of oral bacteria. To accomplish this, a vehicle was chosen which remains in the mouth to supplement the natural defensive mechanisms. Breakfast cereal is the vehicle for carrying the phosphate to its site of action.

"Clinical testing of dental caries preventives is nothing new" said Dr. Wilson, "but it is clearly the area which today receives prime attention from the American Dental Association." Himself a member of the A.D.A., Wilson is hopeful that the current need for dentists and the new trend in the profession of focusing practice toward prevention will encourage young people to consider careers in dentistry. A five year veteran of the practice of pedodontics in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, Wilson prefers dental research. "I miss certain aspects of my private practice," he confided, "but I believe that I am rendering a greater service by striving to erase the causes of tooth decay rather than by treating the effects."

A Faculty Discussion of Christian Worship At Campion Today

It was evening of a warm Tuesday in June. A couple of priests and a few teenagers from Prairie du Chien were gathered in the Campion chapel to celebrate Mass together. As they came to the liturgy of the Word, three girls came in, barefoot, bulky sweatshirts over wet bathing suits, hair strung out and full of sand. At the end of the liturgy of the Word, as the group moved to the prayer of the people, the latecomers told their tale.

They had been swimming that afternoon at Wyalusing beach. A small boy wandered out too far, and as they watched, disappeared under the water. They called for help from others and tried to rescue the boy. As the minutes dragged on, they grew tired and tried to get some fishermen with a boat to come to help, but the men would not. Hope of saving the boy's life faded away, but the girls continued their search to recover the body. Ultimately, exhausted and chilled, they had to give up, and they headed home.

But first they needed the Mass. They needed to pray with their friends. They needed to present their experience to them, to be reassured by their youthful sympathy. They needed to present their experience to Christ, for it was an encounter with the great human mystery of futility and death, a mystery that is overwhelming unless one accepts with hope that Christ's Saving Act, and our own saving acts, are of true worth.

They had experienced the ultimate physical evil in the death of the boy. They had felt the shock of futility in that, for all their young strength and skill and determination, they could not save him. They saw the sadness of life in the grief of the parents. They saw the moral death of apathy in the refusal of the fishermen to help.

They faced in their way what Christ faced in the Garden. The call to them was to a personal Yes of acceptance like his Yes to his Father's will. This is to be a Christian — to commit one's self to Christ's life-style, to his acceptance of the cross, death, and his consequent resurrection. This is what salvation is all about, viz., to be absorbed, incorporated with Christ in his saving act. This is worship — to offer God one's own heartfelt Yes in Christ's Yes.

The girls could not have analyzed their action in its meaning as "worship." Yet it was, very really and fundamentally, the "worship in spirit and truth" that Christians are called to. One must understand this before one can make sense of the Sunday obligation or of the liturgical reform.

The old formula of the catechism refers to sacraments as "external signs which give grace." The sign is the expression; but there has to be a reality expressed. The reality from Christ's part is always there; of this we can be certain. But there must be a corresponding reality from the side of the worshiping.

When a husband kisses his wife, the act is a "sign" of his love. If the love is not a present reality, the sign is meaningless, empty, and worse, it is a lie. And the love does not occur only at the time of the sign; it must be an enduring thing, it must affect one's whole life, it must be shown in all one's actions and attitudes, in everything which that person is.

The Mass is a sign, and it really does "give grace," that is, it really does effect a growth in that life of God, that life of Love communicated within us. It does this, however, only if and insofar as there is a growth in the positive dispositions we bring to Mass, that is, in the "Christ-ing" of our lives.

Sacraments and formal worship can, in no wise, act as even partial substitutes for an unauthentic life, or for the abdication of one's own responsibility. Man receives grace through every aspect of his life, and the sacraments externally "sign-ify" this conferral of grace, of gift-from-God.

It is a Christian obligation to worship on Sunday, an obligation emphasized by the law of the Church. The perspective in which one must view that obligation, though, is much larger than the mere fulfillment of a commandment to attend Mass. A person can, as a matter of fact, fulfill the commandment without in any way deepening his union with Christ, without deepening his union with his brother, without — in the old words — "receiving grace." The commandment of the Church is to an external act; whether there be any interior life in the act depends on whether one brings one's whole existence as a committed believer into the externally-expressed Offering of the Rite.

In other words, one worships "in spirit and truth" to the extent that one lives out his absorption, his incorporation with Christ.

It is obvious that the external sign must be modified according to the particular awareness of union with Christ that a given worshiping community has. To expect that adolescents and elderly, the theologically sophisticated and children should all find most suitable exactly the same external rite to express their obviously quite varied awareness of God would be expecting the impossible.

There is real danger that in experiencing a meaningful act or style of worship that we try to force 'this' precise way of worshiping upon others. But the form of worship must be the natural outgrowth of the milieu in which we live. For example, Christ chose an intimate evening meal, not the Sabbath Synagogue Service, nor a host of other possibilities. Numerous articles attest that today's youth often finds the typical parish Mass remote, coldly formal, impersonal and, at least for them, largely irrelevant. They do find small-group, informal, dialogal liturgies formed from communities-with-a-special purpose quite meaningful. It is not a question of right or wrong — this is too simplistic — but what is best for "this person."

Our generation has seen worshiping Catholic countries start a world war. Our worshiping peer group has done remarkably little about world poverty and suffering — it has not even given it much real concern. The worshiping Catholic community has not been in the forefront of Civil Rights, Open Housing, any more than it was the vanguard of the abolishment of slavery.

This has had the good effect, however, of removing the cloak of self-righteousness from our shoulders. We do not relegate to second-class citizenship anyone whose views of worship or whose liturgical style is different from our own. Not one of us is prepared to answer the query, "How can you worship so much and still the quality of your lives leaves so much to be desired? Don't you mean it?"

The purpose of worship is not to retire from the secular into the department of the religious, let alone to escape from 'this world' into 'the other world', but to open ourselves to the meeting of Christ in our ordinary day-to-day lives, to open ourselves to a more authentic existence, to open our lives for others, to develop that courage to risk so that superficiality, human respect, and comfortableness will not rob us of our real selves, of our very souls.

The function of worship is to make us more sensitive to these depths; to focus, sharpen and deepen our response to the world and to other people beyond the point of proximate concern (of self-interest, limited commitment, etc.) to that of true ultimate concern; to purify and correct our loves in the light of Christ's love; and in him to find the grace and power to be the reconciled and reconciling community.

Anything that achieves this or assists towards it is Christian worship. Anything that fails to do this is not Christian worship, be it ever so 'religious'.

Gridiron Knights Win Five Straight, Ranked 8th In Wisconsin

Marquette Falls Again

The Knights opened the 1969 season with a 14-12 win over Marquette High in Milwaukee. This victory gave Campion two in a row over Marquette. The difference in the game was the new two-point conversion role.

Marquette scored first but missed the extra point. Mike Miller scored for the Knights in the second quarter on a five yard run. The extra point failed and the score at halftime was 6-6. Quarterback Tim Moore scored on a two-yard bootleg and Miller ran for two extra points, the winning margin. Marquette scored late in the game but again missed the extra points.

Campion outgained Marquette 245 to 80 yards. Miller ran 113 yards.

Win Home Opener 26-14

Campion opened at home with victory number two in a 26-14 win over St. Catherine's of Racine. The Knights dominated the game and jumped off to a 20-8 lead at halftime. Greg McMoore scored on a 46 yard pass from Tim Moore; Mike Miller scored from the six yard line, and Moore ran for a three yard touchdown.

In the second half, Moore scored again from the one yard line as the Knights made it two straight. Campion gained 257 yards to 40 yards on the ground and 306 to 142 yards overall. Mike Miller stamped himself as an all-state candidate by running for 152 yards.

Revenge Over Dons 36-12

The Central Wisconsin Catholic conference opening game saw Campion roll over Marshfield Columbus 36-12. This gave the Knights a 3-0 record and avenged last year's 6-0 loss. Junior Greg McMoore scored twice on runs of 57 and 79 yards. Campion led 14-6 at halftime.

Greg Heberlein scored on a 21 yard pass interception and senior Jim Williamson scored on a two yard run. The Knights put the game on ice with a 22 yard field goal by Rick Sevenants and a 49 yard touchdown on a fumble recovery by defensive end Tom Marten.

Mc Moore gained 184 yards rushing and senior Mike Miller ran his three game total to 350 yards by gaining 85 yards.

Newman Is 4th Victim

Wausau Newman became the Knights fourth victim by a 33-12 score. All-state candidate Mike Miller scored 18 points and rolled up 176 yards rushing as Campion swept to first place in the CWCC.

Tim Moore ran for two yards and a score to open the game. Defensive ends, Roger Jerrick and Tom Marten, tackled the Newman quarterback in the end zone for a two-point safety. Miller scored a 24-yard pass from Moore to give Campion a 17-0 halftime lead.

Senior co-captain, Brian O'Malley, scored on a three yard recovery of a blocked punt and minutes later Miller ran off-tackle for 61 yards and a T.D. giving the Knights a 33-12 win.

Campion gained 173 to 46 yards rushing as Mike Miller amassed 526 yards in four games.

Rick Sevenants makes a way for All-State candidate Mike Miller.

34-0 Whitewash Pacelli

Campion, ranked 14th in Wisconsin, swept to their fifth win thumping Stevens Point Pacelli 34-0. Leading the CWCC the Knights were led by Tim Moore and Mike Miller who combined for 370 yards offensively.

On the first play of the game Junior end, Randy Pedretti, caught a 56 yard pass from Tim Moore and Mike Miller scored from the two yard line. Miller scored again from the six yard line and Jim Williamson went 45 yards on a screen pass to give Campion a 21-0 lead at halftime.

The second half saw more "Knight Power" as Miller scored on a 45 yard run and Moore passed 44 yards to Greg McMoore, making the final 34-0. The second team played the last 20 minutes as Campion chalked up 426 yards in the air and on the ground. Miller ran his yardage to 701 in five games.

Regis Rambles No More

Campion, now ranked 10th in Wisconsin, scored a convincing 41-20 victory over the Regis Ramblers at Eau Claire, Wis. Now undefeated in six games and leading the conference the Knights scored in every way.

Mike Miller opened the scoring with a 14 yard run. Then within a minute of play Tim Moore scored from the two and Steve Peterson ran 79 yards for a touchdown to give the Knights a 22-6 halftime lead.

A blocked punt by Tom Marten and Roger Jerrick set up an eight yard run by Miller. Peterson scored his second T.D. from the one yard line and Mike Primiano ran a pass interception back 47 yards for the final Campion points.

Campion rolled up a 414-252 margin in total offense and 21-12 in first downs, as the Knights even up for a 13-6 loss last year. Miller had 16 points and 178 yards and Peterson had 130 yards rushing.

Aquinas Dumped 35-14

Now 8th ranked in Wisconsin, Campion trampled arch-rival Aquinas 35-14 before a homecoming crowd. However, in the game the Knights lost the fine running of Mike Miller and later Steve Peterson. Miller had gained 907 yards in little more than six games.

The Knights scored first on a one yard run by Tim Moore. Minutes later Moore threw a 66 yard touchdown pass to end Roger Jerrick and the half found Campion leading 15-8.

After a scoreless third quarter, Peterson ran for a 73 yard score and set up a field goal attempt with a 54 yard run. Jack Simms, Junior Safety, intercepted a pass and set up a Jim Williamson score from the six yard line. The final Campion score came on a pass interception and Doug Lipke returned for a touchdown.

Undefeated in seven games the Knights totaled 394 to 246 yards offensively. Steve Peterson rushed for 205 yards before being injured.

Alumni Get Togethers In Cleveland and Washington

During the first week in August the eastern alumni held two get togethers; one in Washington, D.C., and the other in Cleveland, Ohio.

In Washington the gathering was held at Gonzaga High School. Thanks to a great deal of work by Father Ed McCawley, S.J. '28, over 30 alumni and wives attended. A. N. Culicchia '60, Director of Alumni, and Mr. A. J. Thon, S.J., Dean of Students, were there from Campion.

Later in the week, over 50 alumni from Cleveland and northeastern Ohio attended a party in downtown Cleveland. Heading this affair was Pete Carey '60, with help from Jerome McKeever '27, and Bruce McAuliffe '48.

Many of Campion's more recent grads were out in force for this gathering. Some of the talk centered around Bob Kelly '38, who was running for Mayor of Cleveland. He took time out to attend the party. The Alumni Council is planning more activities for the near future.

Milwaukee Alumni Dinner

On Saturday, September 6, the Milwaukee and southeastern Wisconsin Alumni Council held a combination football game and dinner. In the afternoon the alumni saw the Knights kick off the 1969 season with a 14-12 win over arch-rival Marquette High, and then spent a wonderful evening at Eugene's Restaurant. Over 70 alumni and wives enjoyed visiting old classmates and talking about Campion.

Co-chairmen, Jon Harper '55, and Dick Weis '60, organized and put on one of the finest events of its kind. They were assisted by Mark Harrington '64, John Clark '60, Dick Peterson '45, and Fred Minchik '55.

Inform your friends. Initiate a group party within the Mothers' Club party.

Campion will celebrate 90 years of continuing excellence in education. Take this opportunity to congratulate the "good Jesuits" as they approach their centennial.

Michael Timbers '03 C'06 Returns For Campus Visit

Michael F. Timbers '03 C'06, was amazed but very pleased with the changes on the campus in a visit here during class reunion weekend in June. Mr. Timbers, 84 years of age, wrote the following note to Father A. F. Siebauer, S.J. "After 65 years it was indeed a great pleasure to meet you again after that long span of years since I last saw you at old Sacred Heart College. The only sad part was the remembrance of those fine chums and instructors of yesteryear, none of whom we will ever meet again in this world.

The new campus was a revelation to me — it is hard to believe the two old halls are gone, and that a host of new buildings and an extensive campus have provided such a "new look." Such advantages that you now have are unbelievable as compared with what we had at the turn of the century."

Mr. Timbers formerly of Mauston, Wis., now lives in Madison at: 2214 Kendall Ave. He worked as an analyst for the Public Service Commission and retired at the age of 82. While a student at Campion, he was captain of the baseball team in 1903-04. He entered the University of Wisconsin. During his second year he was instrumental in introducing the game of baseball to Japan. He was also president of the senior class and graduated from the University in 1911.
