

FEATURE STORY

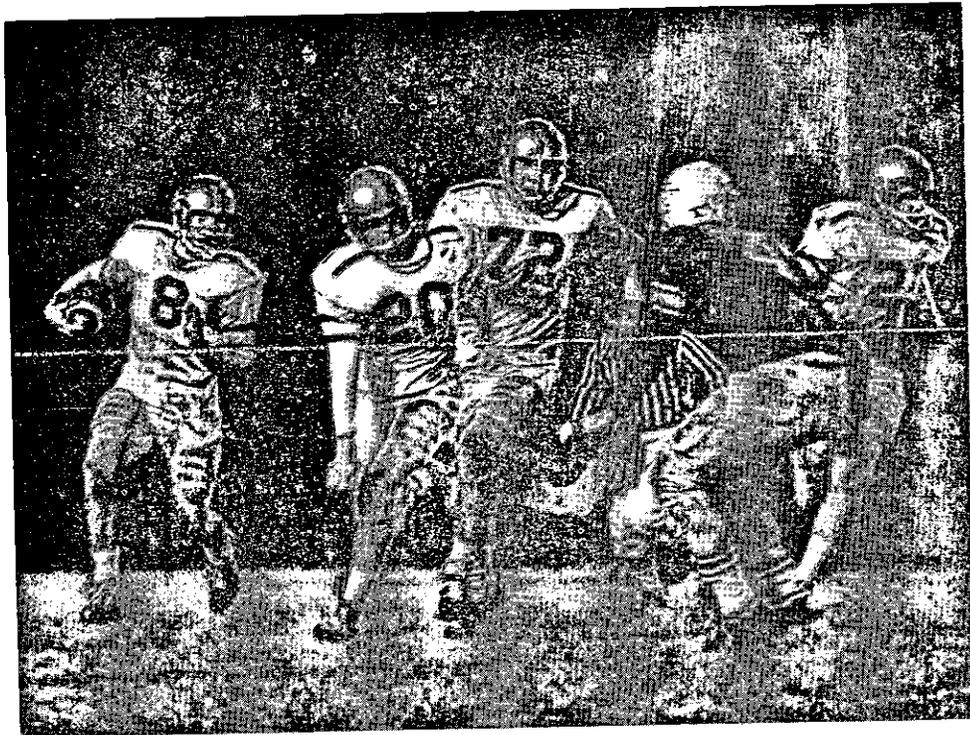

ed Campion as one of the top football powers in the state, but he also has become one of the best loved coaches in Campion history. School Spirit at Campion does not simply include L. G., it is built around him. Pep rallies are never quite the same when L. G. isn't there. And when he is there, they become spontaneous. On the eve of the Aquinas game this year, L. G. spoke to the assembled student body in front of Marquette Hall and prompted one of the best displays of spirit seen here. It carried over into the game the next night, as evidenced by the fine showing Campion made.

L. G. has done more than create a football machine at Campion, he has helped to develop men. His players can feel nothing but respect for him, and will defy anyone to disagree with them when they say he is the best coach in the country. This is kind of spirit L. G. inspires. Players under him cannot help but be proud of their coach, their team, and their school.

Campion's unbeaten victory string was stopped at twenty games this year. They also suffered a disappointing setback in a tremendously well-played game at Aquinas, the last game of the season. Yet the spirit of the team this year was better than ever. L. G. was as proud of the team as the team was of him.

The entire student body extends their feeling of appreciation to Coach Friedrichs, in gratitude for all he has done for the school. It is also the hope of the entire student body that he will be retained as head coach for many successful seasons to come.
